Chapter

And now Jacob spake many more things to my people at that time nevertheless only these things have I caused to be written for the things which I have written sufficeth me

& now I Nephi write more of the words of Isaiah for my Soul de()lighteth in his words for I will liken his words unto my People & I will send them forth unto all my Children for he verily saw my redeemer 68 even as I have seen him

& my Brother Jacob also hath seen him as I have seen him wherefore I will send their words forth unto my children to prove unto them that my words are true wherefore by the words of three God hath said I will esta-blish my word nevertheless God sendeth more witnesses & he proveth all his wor-ds

behold my soul delighteth in proveing unto my People the truth of the come-ing of Christ for for this end hath the law of Moses been given & all things which have been given of God from the beginning of the world unto man are the type-fying of him

& also my soul delighteth in the covenants of the Lord which he ha-th made to our fathers yea my soul delighteth in his grace & his Justice & pow-er & mercy in the great & eternal plan of deliverance from death

& my soul del()ighteth in proveing unto my People that save christ should come all men must perish

for if there be no Christ there be no God & if there be no God we are not for there could have been no Creation but there is a God & he is Christ & he come-th in the fullness of his own time

& now I write some of the words of Isaiah that whoso of my People which shall see these words may lift up their he-arts & rejoice for all men now these are the words & ye may liken them unto yo-u & unto all men

CHAPTER 11 [X]

Jacob saw his Redeemer—The law of Moses typifies Christ and proves He will come. About 559–545 B.C.

¹And now, Jacob spake many more things to my people at that time; nevertheless only these things have I caused to be written, for the things which I have written sufficeth me.

²And now I, Nephi, write more of the words of Isaiah, for my soul de()lighteth in his words. For I will liken his words unto my people, and I will send them forth unto all my children, for he verily saw my Redeemer, even as I have seen him.

³And my brother, Jacob, also has[] seen him as I have seen him; wherefore, I will send their words forth unto my children to prove unto them that my words are true. Wherefore, by the words of three, God hath said, I will esta[-]blish my word. Nevertheless, God sendeth more witnesses, and he proveth all his wor[-]ds.

⁴Behold, my soul delighteth in prov[]ing unto my people the truth of the com[][-]ing of Christ; for, for this end hath the law of Moses been given; and all things which have been given of God from the beginning of the world, unto man, are the typi[-]fying of him.

⁵And also my soul delighteth in the covenants of the Lord which he ha[-]th made to our fathers; yea, my soul delighteth in his grace, and in his justice, and pow[-]er, and mercy in the great and eternal plan of deliverance from death.

⁶And my soul del[]ighteth in prove[]ing unto my people that save Christ should come all men must perish.

⁷For if there be no Christ there be no God; and if there be no God we are not, for there could have been no creation. But there is a God, and he is Christ, and he come[-]th in the ful[]ness of his own time.

⁸And now I write some of the words of Isaiah, that whoso of my people [X] shall see these words may lift up their he[-]arts and rejoice for all men. Now these are the words, and ye may liken them unto yo[-]u and unto all men.
