

~~now~~ now my Son here es somewhat more I would say unto thee for I perceive that the mind is worried concerning the resurrection of the ~~dead~~ dead

behold I say unto you that there is no resurrection or I would say in other words that this mortal does not put on immortality this corruption does not put on encorruption untill after the comeind of Christ

behold he bringeth to pass the resurrection of the dead but behold my Son the resurrection erts to hes son Coreantor is not yet <sup>now</sup> I unfold unto you a mystery nevertheless there are many mysteries which are kept that no one knoweth them save God himself but I shew unto you one thing which I have enquired deligently of God that I might know that is concerning the resurrection

behold there is a time appointed that all shall come forth from the dead now when this time cometh no one ~~noes~~ <sup>knoes</sup> but God knoweth the time which is appointed

now whether there shall be one time or a second time or a third time that men shall come forth from the dead it mattereth not for God Knoweth all these things & it suffiseth me to know that this is the case that there is a time appointed when all shall rise from the dead

& now there must needs be a space betwixt the time of death & the time of the resurrection

& now I would inquire what becometh of the souls of men from this time of death to the time appointed for the resurrection

now whether there is more then one time appointed for men to rise it mattereth not for all do not die at once & this mattereth not all is as one day with God & time only is measured unto man

CHAPTER 40

*Christ brings to pass the resurrection of all men—
The righteous dead go to paradise and the wicked to outer darkness to await the day of their resurrection—All things will be restored to their proper and perfect frame in the Resurrection.
About 74 B.C.*

<sup>1</sup>[ _ _ _ ] Now my son, here is somewhat more I would say unto thee; for I perceive that thy mind is worried concerning the resurrection of the [X] dead.

<sup>2</sup>Behold, I say unto you, that there is no resurrection—or, I would say, in other words, that this mortal does not put on immortality, this corruption does not put on incorruption—until [ ] after the coming of Christ.

<sup>3</sup>Behold, he bringeth to pass the resurrection of the dead. But behold, my son, the resurrection [ _ _ _ X _ _ _ X _ _ _ _ _ ] is not yet. Now, I unfold unto you a mystery; nevertheless, there are many mysteries which are kept, that no one knoweth them save God himself. But I show unto you one thing which I have inquired diligently of God that I might know—that is concerning the resurrection.

<sup>4</sup>Behold, there is a time appointed that all shall come forth from the dead. Now when this time cometh no one [ _ _ _ ] knows; but God knoweth the time which is appointed.

<sup>5</sup>Now, whether there shall be one time, or a second time, or a third time, that men shall come forth from the dead, it mattereth not; for God knoweth all these things; and it sufficeth me to know that this is the case—that there is a time appointed that all shall rise from the dead.

<sup>6</sup>[X] Now there must needs be a space betwixt the time of death and the time of the resurrection.

<sup>7</sup>And now I would inquire what becometh of the souls of men from this time of death to the time appointed for the resurrection?

<sup>8</sup>Now whether there is more than one time appointed for men to rise it mattereth not; for all do not die at once, and this mattereth not; all is as one day with God, and time only is measured unto men.

therefore there is a time appointed unto men that they shall rise from the dead & there is a space between the time of death & the resurrection & now concerning this space of time what becometh of the souls of men is the thing which I have inquired diligently of the Lord Co know & this is the thing of which I do know

& when the time cometh when all shall rise then shall they 270 know that God knoweth all the times which are appointed unto man

now concerning the state of the soul between death & the resurrection behold it hath been made known unto me by an Angel that the spirits of all men as soon as they are departed from this mortal body yea the spirits of all men whether they be good or evil are taken home to that God who gave them life

& then ~~that~~ shall it come to pass that the spirits of those which are righteous are received into a state of happiness which is called Paradise a state of rest a state of peace where they shall rest from all their troubles & from all care & sorrow & .C.

& & hen shall it come to pass that the spirits of the wicked yea which are evil for behold they have no part nor portion of the spirit of the Lord for behold they chose evil works rather than good therefore the spirit of the ~~Lord~~ Devil did enter into them & take possession of their house & these shall be cast out in to outer darkness there shall be weeping & wailing & gnashing of teeth & this because of their own iniquity being lead captive by the will of the Devil

now these is the state of the souls of the wicked yea in darkness & a state of awful fearful looking for of the fiery indignation of the wrath of god upon them so thus they remain in this state as well as the righteous in paradise until the time of their resurrection

now there are some that have understood that this state of happiness & this state of misery of the soul before the resurrection was a first resurrection yea
& .C

I admit it may be termed a resurrection the raising the spirit or the soul & their consignment to happiness or misery according to the words which have been spoken

<sup>9</sup>Therefore, there is a time appointed unto men that they shall rise from the dead; and there is a space between the time of death and the resurrection. And now, concerning this space of time, what becometh of the souls of men is the thing which I have inquired diligently of the Lord to know; and this is the thing of which I do know.

<sup>10</sup>And when the time cometh when all shall rise, then shall they know that God knoweth all the times which are appointed unto man.

<sup>11</sup>Now, concerning the state of the soul between death and the resurrection—Behold, it has [ ] been made known unto me by an angel, that the spirits of all men, as soon as they are departed from this mortal body, yea, the spirits of all men, whether they be good or evil, are taken home to that God who gave them life.

<sup>12</sup>And then [X] shall it come to pass, that the spirits of those who are righteous are received into a state of happiness, which is called paradise, a state of rest, a state of peace, where they shall rest from all their troubles and from all care, and sorrow [X_ _].

<sup>13</sup>[X] And then shall it come to [ _ _ ] pass, that the spirits of the wicked, yea, who are evil—for behold, they have no part nor portion of the Spirit of the Lord; for behold, they chose evil works rather than good; therefore the spirit of the [X] devil did enter into them, and take possession of their house—and these shall be cast out in [ ] to outer darkness; there shall be weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth, and this because of their own iniquity, being led captive by the will of the devil.

<sup>14</sup>Now this is the state of the souls of the wicked, yea, in darkness, and a state of awful, fearful looking for [X] the fiery indignation of the wrath of God upon them; [X] thus they remain in this state, as well as the righteous in paradise, until [ ] the time of their resurrection.

<sup>15</sup>Now, there are some that have understood that this state of happiness and this state of misery of the soul, before the resurrection, was a first resurrection. Yea,

I admit it may be termed a resurrection, the raising of the spirit or the soul and their consignment to happiness or misery, according to the words which have been spoken.

& behold again it hath been spoken that there is a first resurrection a resurrection of all those which have been or which are or which shall be ~~be~~ down to the resurrection of Christ from the dead

now we do not suppose that this first resurrection which ~~has<sup>is</sup> been~~ spoken of in this manner can be the resurrection of the souls & their consignation to happiness or misery ye cannot suppose that this is what it meaneth behold I say unto you nay but it meaneth the reuniting of the soul with the body of those from the days of Adam ~~die~~ down to the resurrection of Christ

now whether the souls & the bodies of those ~~t~~<sup>of</sup> which have been spoken shall all be reunited at once the wicked as well as the righteous I do not say let it suffice that I say that they all come forth or in other words that their resurrection cometh to pass before the resurrection of those which die after the resurrection of Christ

now my Son I do not say that their resurrection cometh at the resurrection of Christ but behold I give it as my opinion that the souls & the bodies are reunited of the righteous at the resurrection of Christ & his ascension into heaven

but whether it be at his resurrection or after I do not say but 271 this much I say that there is a space between death & the resurrection of the body & a state of the soul in happiness <sup>or</sup> & in misery until the time which is appointed of God that the dead shall come forth & be reunited both soul & body & be brought to stand before God & be judged according to their works yea this bringeth about the restoration of those things of which have been spoken by the mouths<sup>s</sup> of the Propets

the soul shall be restored to the body & the body to the soul yea & every ~~limb~~ limb & joint shall be restored to its body yea even a hair of their heads shall not be lost but all things shall be restored to its proper & p<sup>r</sup>fect frame

& now my Son this is the restoration which has been spoken by the mouths of the Prophets

& then shall the righteous shine forth in the Kingdom of God

16And behold, again it hath been spoken, that there is a first resurrection, a resurrection of all those who have been, or who are, or who shall be [X], down to the resurrection of Christ from the dead.
