CHAPTER 14

The iniquity of the people brings a curse upon the land—Coriantumr engages in warfare against Gilead, then Lib, and then Shiz—Blood and carnage cover the land.

¹And now there began to be a great curse upon all the land because of the iniquity of the people, in [X] which, if a man should lay his tool or his sword upon his shelf, or upon the place [_ _]whither[_ _] he would keep it, [X] behold, upon the morrow, he could not find it, so great was the curse upon the land.

²Wherefore every man did cleave unto that which was his own, with his hands, and would not borrow neither would he lend; and every man kept the hilt of his sword [X] in his right hand, in the defence of his property and his own life and [X] of his wives and children.

³And now, after the space of two years, and after the death of Shared, behold, there arose the brother of Shared and [_] he gave battle unto Coriantumr, in [X] which Coriantumr did beat him and did pursue him to the wilderness of Akish.

⁴And it came to pass that the brother of [_ _]Shared[_ _] did give battle unto him in the wilderness of Akish; and the battle became exceedingly sore, and many thousands fell by the sword.

⁵And it came to pass that Coriantumr did lay siege to the wilderness; and the brother of Shared did march forth out of the wilderness by night, and slew a part of the army of Coriantumr, as they were drunken.

⁶And he came forth to the land of Moron, and placed himself upon the throne of Coriantumr.

⁷And it came to pass that Coriantumr dwelt with his army in the wilderness for the space of two years, in [X] which he did receive great strength to his army.

⁸Now the brother of Shared, whose name was Gilead, also received great strength to his army, [X] because of secret combinations.

⁹And it came to pass that his high priest murdered him as he sat upon his throne.
